Application for Web Development Bachelor

My name is Victor Bielski and I'm 21 years old and I want to take my knowledge in web development to the next step. I'm currently in the finishing stages of my internship to finish my multimedia design education at Copenhagen Business Academy Lyngby which I have been a part of since the summer of 2017. Ever since I started my journey in the web development "world", my interest in the subject have just grown bigger and bigger, and I can't wait to make the next step to become a web developer.

I want to use the Web Development Bachelor to make my dream come true. I want to dig a bit deeper into the web development world, and I am very interested in learning more about advanced "features" in web development. My dream is to become a full-time front-end developer and working with advanced cases where knowledge is the key to success. The Web Development Bachelor is the exact right thing for me to do since it offers all the things that I am very interested in.
